Monterey, Va. Friday, Sept. 17, 1915

Cheat Bridge

Walker Gutshall was called to his home near Pinekey on account of his father's illness.

C. P. Gillespie's little baby has been very ill for the past week. Clyde Folks, the commissary sergeant at Cheat Bridge, is seeing his baby.

We would like to meet friends at the stock show, but can't. We hope there will be a good turnout.

The Pulp & Paper Co. received one order for 500,000 feet of lumber in one bill. That begins to look good to the laborers. We hope those bills will keep coming. S. G. Dever, the company filer at camp 36, is thinking of going home soon to do some farm work. Stuh O'Neil the train master on the G. C. and E. railroad is very busy placing car and loading bark to be shipped to Cass, W. Va.

Rexrode—Neil

A beautiful, though quiet wedding was solemnized at the home of S. M. Neil on the morning of June 7th where their youngest daughter, Myrtle Edith, became the bride of Harvey Rexrode. The bride was handsomely dressed in white messaline with a train and carried a bouquet of orange blossoms. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Rexrode. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Woodch Allen of McDowell.

They are both highly respected and we all wish them a long and happy life.

Wedding at Sangerville

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride's mother, G. M. Cariofe, Sangerville, Va., Sept. 12, 1915, when Miss Stella Cariofe became the bride of Mr. William Kincaid. The bride is a handsome and very much respected young lady of Augusta Co.

The groom is a son of Felix Kincaid, of Williamsville Va. and is also highly respected.

The bride was nicely dressed in white silk mull, while the groom wore a handsome suit of black.

License bearer, cousin of the bride, Miss Pansy Sanders. Flower girl, sister of the bride, Miss Leslie Cariofe. The attendants were Miss Cora E. Cariofe, sister of the bride, and Raymond E. Bussard, of Highland Co. The attendant Miss Cora Cariofe was handsomely dressed in cream crepe.

About fifty friends and relatives of the bride were present to witness the ceremony; several remaining and partaking of a grand dinner which was much enjoyed. The ceremony was performed at 9 o'clock a. m. by Rev. A. L. Miller, of Dayton Va. The happy couple will make their home at Williamsville Va., where the groom will still follow the occupation of farming. We extend to this couple our heartiest congratulations and may their lives be long and prosperous.

VIRGINIA:

In vacation, in the Clerk's office of the Circuit Court of Highland County, on the 31st day of August, 1915.

Mary V. Rodgers, Renick Hull, Lena T. Green and Edwin B. Jones and Richard C. Jones, Executors of Charles P. Jones, deceased.

In Chancery.
D. C. Graham Sheriff of Highland county and as such Administrator of G. W. S. Hull deceased, Mary Hull, Clarence Hull, Georgie Hull, Lee Hull, Fayette Hull, Howard Hull and Bernard Hull.

The object of this suit is to partition a tract of 74 acres of land in Highland county, in which the said G. W. S. Hull deceased, had an undivided interest, and to subject the same to the payment of a debt due the estate of Charles P. Jones deceased.

And it appearing from affidavit filed that the defendants, Mary Hull, Clarence Hull, Georgie Hull, Lee Hull, Fayette Hull, Howard Hull and Bernard Hull, are non-residents of this state, it is therefore ordered that they appear here within fifteen days after due publication hereof, and do what is necessary to protect their interests.

NOT WEATHER MEALS

COMBINATIONS THAT GO WELL IN THE SUMMER.

Hot Savory and a Cold Salad Are Always to Be Recommended—Some Suggestions That Are Worth Remembering.

A hot savory and a cold salad make a good combination for the summer luncheon, and the savory is a useful dish for the disposition of left-over scraps of meat, fish, etc.

The foundation of a savory is usually a triangle on a finger of buttered brown bread toast, or fried bread, pastry or biscuit. The filling may be varied indefinitely, and its arrangement depends upon available materials.

Here are a few suggestions for the use of materials common to all households:

Tomato Toast.—Half an ounce of butter, two ounces of grated cheese, one tablespoonful of tomato; paprika. Melt the butter and add the tomato (either canned or fresh steamed), then the grated cheese; sprinkle with paprika and heat on the stove. Cut bread into rounds or small squares, fry and pour over each slice the hot tomato mixture.

Ham Toast.—Mince a little left-over boiled ham very finely. Warm it in a pan with a piece of butter. Add a little pepper and paprika. When very hot pile on hot buttered toast. Any left-over scraps of fish or meat may be used up in a similar way, and make an excellent savory to serve with a green salad.

Sardine Savories.—Sardines, one hard-boiled egg, brown bread, strips. Cut the brown bread into strips and butter them. Remove the skin and the bones from the sardines and lay one fish on each finger of the bread. Chop the white of the egg into fine pieces and rub the yolk through a strainer. Chop the parsley very fine and decorate each sardine with layers of the white, the yolk and the chopped parsley. Season with pepper and salt.

Oyster Savories.—These make a more substantial dish, and are delicious when served with a celery salad. Six oysters, six slices of bacon, fried bread, seasoning. Cut very thin strips of bacon; the bacon that can be purchased already shaved is best for the purpose. Season the oysters with pepper and salt, and wrap each in a slice of the bacon, pinning it together with a wooden splint (a toothpick). Place each oyster on a round of toast or of fried bread, and cook in the oven for about five minutes. Serve very hot, and sprinkle with pepper.

Cheese Savories.—Butter slices of bread and sprinkle over them a mixture of grated cheese and paprika. Set them in a pan and place the pan in the oven, leaving it there until the bread is colored and the cheese set. Serve very hot.

Uses of Pineapple Juice.

The juice left from canned pineapple is fine for use during the canning season to impart flavor to tasteless fruits, as the pear. A pint of juice added to the water in which pears are cooking gives it an excellent flavor. For canning the pineapple is often put up in grated form, or after being run through a chopper. Although it may be served in various forms, the fruit is so excellent that the simplest form is as good as any. Sprinkle a little sugar over the slices about an hour before wanted and set in the refrigerator. If the fruit is quite ripe when served very little extra sugar is needed, but, like all other tropical fruits when sent North, it has to be gathered in a green state and is seldom found quite ripened from the field.

No fruit lends itself with greater readiness than the pineapple to coaxing art of the canneries and the preserving factories.

Banana Cake.

Make any one-egg cake, or better still make a sponge cake and bake in round tins, two layers; slice banana on cake and cover with whipped cream; simply lay another layer of cake on first and cover again with bananas and cream.

Whipped Cream.—Take one cupful sweet cream, add the white of an egg to give it body, small pinch of salt and whip all together until thick; sweeten to taste and flavor with vanilla.—Boston Globe.

Rhubarb Custard.

Stew about one and a half pounds rhubarb and one cupful sugar. Make a soft custard of one pint milk, two eggs, half cup sugar and one tablespoonful cornstarch in a double boiler. Let both cool, then pour custard over the rhubarb. Rhubarb is much better stewed in double boiler, too, using no water.

Sour Cream Dressing.

One-half pint sour cream, two tablespoonful lemon juice, one tablespoonful sugar, one teaspoonful salt, one teaspoonful mustard, one teaspoonful onion. Beat the cream until it is light and thick; add the other ingredients. Sweet cream may be substituted if desired.

To Clean Brushes.

Clean all brushes carefully by dipping the bristles in warm water to which has been added a few drops of ammonia. Remove any bits of hair or stuff from them, finish off by dabbing bristles in clear cold water, and hang up the brushes in the air to dry.

Hot-Water Platter.

Those who have to solve the problem of cold dining rooms, especially at breakfast time, will find greater comfort in the use of the hot-water platter. Boiling water is turned into the tank under the platter and the top screwed on. Then the nickel cover is placed over the food, which keeps hot and in perfect order for at least thirty minutes. The original outfit seems a little large, as the medium-sized outfit costs about nine dollars, but with careful use it will repay in the comfort of hot meals. There is also the round hot-water plate which is excellent for the breakfast tray or invalid's use.

A GENERAL SURVEY OF THE WAR

SATURDAY.

Further advances by the Germans in Courland are admitted in an official dispatch from Petrograd, which says the Russians have retreated to the north bank of the Dvina river, forty miles southeast of Riga. The statement says the Russians are on the offensive near the Viliya river, between Kovno and Vilna, and that the czar's troops are holding the Austrians on a fifty-mile front in Galicia.

A news dispatch to Rome says unless the allies relieve Russia by a determined offensive in the west, the Russian armies will be crushed. In the capture of Grodno and Friedland the Germans are reported to have taken 6000 prisoners.

Continuous artillery fighting on the western front is reported from Paris.

SUNDAY.

Allan Line steamship Hesperian is torpedoed without warning 100 miles off the Irish coast, but keeps afloat and is returning to Queenstown. No lives were lost, company reports. Two Americans and fifty wounded Canadian soldiers were among the 350 passengers on board the Hesperian.

Petrograd claims the German army under von Hindenburg has been checked on the Dvina river, and the advance on Vilna has been halted, with heavy losses to the German army.

Vatican is besieged with messages from all over the world inquiring about peace proposals pope is said to have made to President Wilson.

Unusually heavy artillery fire marks the activity along the western battle front.

MONDAY.

The Allan Line steamship Hesperian, torpedoed Saturday night, southwest of Ireland, with 650 passengers and crew aboard, sank 160 miles from Queenstown. Thirteen passengers are missing and two are reported dead. Survivors assert the liner was sunk by a German submarine, and that no warning was given. Secretary of State Lansing has asked American representatives in Great Britain for details of the attack.

A news dispatch from Copenhagen says the Russians have evacuated Dago Island, at the entrance to the Gulf of Riga, and that the Germans claim possession of the gulf. General von Hindenburg holds the bridgehead over the Dvina river at Friedland, in Courland. Berlin reports a continued advance by the Germans in the Pripiet marsh region and Vienna says Russian detachments have been dispersed in Bessarabia.

Heavy artillery fighting continues on the battle line in France, especially in the vicinity of Arras.

TUESDAY.

In a letter to President Poincare, of France, Czar Nicholas announces he has assumed command of all the Russian armies, according to a dispatch from Paris.

Announcement is made in Berlin that a severe battle is in progress at Walkowysk, forty-five miles southeast of Grodno. A dispatch to Berlin says a pause was caused in Petrograd by a report that the Germans were near Riga. London reports say the Austro-German advance in Galicia has been checked.

Berlin announces the loss of the submarine U-27, which, an official statement says, sank a small British cruiser August 10.

Violent artillery action continues along virtually the whole battle front in France.

WEDNESDAY.

London reports that it has been established an American, who shipped as a seaman, perished when the Allan Line steamship Hesperian was sunk by a German submarine. The Hesperian's death list is now thirty-three. Ambassador Gerard in Berlin to forward all information possible regarding the disaster.

The czar has removed Grand Duke Nicholas as commander-in-chief of the Russian armies, sending him to command the Muscovite forces in the Caucasus, with the title of viceroy, and taking command of the Russian army himself. A Russian official announcement says the Germans are being held at all points on the eastern front. Berlin announces the capture of Walkowysk, Russia.

In France the allied offensive is confined to artillery and air attacks. Bombs have been dropped on Ostend and upon the German aviation camp at St. Medard, Belgium.

THURSDAY.

Zeppelins have dropped bombs into the heart of London, killing twenty persons and injuring eighty-six. This makes a total of thirty-three dead and one hundred and twenty-nine injured in raids of two successive nights.

An official announcement in Petrograd claims a Russian victory over the Austro-Germans at Tarnopol, Galicia, with the capture of 8000 men and thirty cannon. The German offensive is said to be checked along the entire eastern battle line.

The army of the German crown prince has made a furious attack upon the French line protecting Verdun. Paris says the French line remains unbroken.

Bulgaria is reported to have entered its agreement with Turkey, by which the Ottoman government will give up the Dedezaghat railway. This is understood to mean that Bulgaria will not enter the war against the Teutonic allies.

SOME OF THE OLD "TIPPLES"

Early Housekeepers Had Many Recipes That Have Been Handed Down to Posterity.

Whether there will be a revival during the next few years of the domestic art of making wine is a matter of pure conjecture, but it is interesting to recall that formerly many common things that grow around us were utilized by thrifty housewives in the preparation of "tipples" that were more or less mild or more or less potent. Generally the wine-making potentialities of these things are little thought of now, and in most homes, even in country homes, wine-making processes have been forgotten.

Reference has recently been made to the making of dandelion wine, a sweet and potent wine prepared with the aid of the golden flowers of the dandelion. Elderberry wine and elderflower wine were made in most of the rural homes in the Potomac country a generation or so ago. Blackberries were gathered industriously by the children for conversion into jam and wine or cordial, and raspberries were especially sought after that wine could be made from them. It is probable that in the minds of elderly persons today there is preserved a better memory of raspberry vinegar than of raspberry wine, for it was popularly believed that raspberry vinegar was superior to that made from apples.

In cherry time the fruit was treasured because it could be preserved or converted into a familiar tipple called "cherry bounce," a drink which at certain stages of its "aging" or development was exhilarating and intoxicating.

The flavor of gooseberry wine was known and esteemed by most of the grandmothers and grandfathers of present Washingtonians.

On all the old farms there was a little distillery, though on some farms it was not so little, just as there was an icehouse and a smokehouse, where the peaches and apples and grapes could be distilled into fruit brandy.

Cider-making was a ceremony, and in the late fall when frost had pinched and somewhat shriveled the persimmons a strange potation called persimmon beer was made.

Parsnip wine was made by British housewives before emigration to America set in, and the art of making this wine was brought over by the early immigrants. There was also in colonial times in America a drink which was called peppermint wine, or peppermint liqueur.

LETTUCE FOR THE TABLE

Much Depends on Its Proper Preparation and Arrangement When It Is Served.

When lettuce comes from the market, clean in cold water and look it over carefully to see that all dirt and insects are removed. Place on a piece of dampened cheesecloth, then roll up and put on the ice, when it will be ready for use and will often stay fresh for a week. Some persons complain of sleepiness after eating lettuce. This is due to the lactucin in lettuce, which the milky juice contains. This juice may be removed by cutting from the lettuce the lower end of the heads or stalks and then standing the lettuce in cold water for several hours before using. Keep the head intact when you wish to quiet the nerves or to induce sleep.

The following is a pretty lettuce relish for luncheon or dinner and may be served in a small cut glass dish: Line the dish with lettuce leaves upon which place either ripe or green olives and tiny red tomatoes. Chill with cracked ice. The olives and tomatoes may be taken with the fingers at any time during the meal.

His Rank.

"I suppose the man who has charge of the coining of 25-cent pieces has an army rank."

"What army rank could he have?"

"That of quartermaster."

Fine Cut.

"I certainly like the way our new cook prepares spaghetti."

"How's that?"

"She runs it through the meat chopper first!"—Judge.

I am a candidate for constable for Bluegrass district and solicit your support.

S. S. WADE

I hereby announce myself a candidate for Justice of Peace for Stonewall district and respectfully solicit your support.

J. LEE SIPLE

To The Voters of Augusta and Highland Counties and The City of Staunton

In answer to the written petition of more than a thousand voters in your Senatorial District I announce myself a candidate for the State Senate from the Ninth Senatorial District upon the following Declaration of Principles:

I favor strict Economy. The best way to prevent high taxes is by the practice of Economy.

I favor the expenditure of public money only for the public good; I oppose useless offices, junket trips, and salary grabs.

I believe that individuals and counties that have been escaping the payment of taxes for years should, in the future, be compelled to pay their full share of State taxes.

I believe in equal rights to all and special privileges to none. No one class has a right to all the offices and all the honors.

I believe in local self government and the election of officers by the people.

I favor strict prohibition laws. I am opposed to government by bosses, rings, cliques, caucuses, and illegal primaries manipulated for the benefit of a few.

I am opposed to the constantly recurring changes in school books.

I ask the support of all free, untrammelled voters who favor economy, justice, and the rule of the people.

Respectfully,
C. T. JORDAN

WEST VIRGINIA WOMEN TESTIFY.

Parkersburg, West Va.—"I was suffering from weakness and nervousness. I had the trouble common to my age. I used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for this trouble and was surprised that it helped me so much. I was glad I took it, I have been so much better ever since."—MRS. ELLA DULANEY, 605 Green St., Parkersburg, W. Va.

Parkersburg, West Va.—"I read the symptoms of female trouble in Dr. Pierce's little book. It described my case and I made up my mind to try the 'Healing Suppositories.' They were recommended to me by a lady whom they had helped. I had inflammation and congestion and was annoyed and suffered from it until I found these 'Suppositories.' I use them every third day and the effects are very satisfactory. I have used two boxes and am now using the third. You may see my endorsement in any way that will help other women."—Miss ALICE LEWIS, 209½ Market St., Parkersburg, W. Va.
